Hoping to get the chance to study law, medicine, and more music. Currently working around 70-84 hours a week delivering . I have a 8ish year plan to tip the dominoes needed to create world peace. For all. Including writing several books and 1000s of songs. Im seeking to find a way to work less but do more meaningful work. That my skills can help with. So I can have some safe free time to write. I have 8 cats. Oldest is 30 the youngest is 2. I'm compassionate and loving. I'm currently working on standing up for myself. I'd make a phenomenal manager and wouldn't require a ton of pay even in that position. I find it much more stressful being micromanaged with my skill sets. When I'm able to boost productivity in every scenario I'm in. Even if it's from motivating those around me.

I'm willing to relocate if my cats can come with me. To any country.

I'm extremely innovative and have certain ideas and plans to solve and remove covid and several other medical issues. As well as non medical ideas. With the correct backing this could happen very quickly.

Hoping to learn to code in order to make several apps but am open and hoping for help.

I lack grammar but that is not my skill set 🙄🌍

I'll write more later.... this is only the beginning.

Willing to relocate: Anywhere

Authorized to work in the US for any employer
